John Patterson, second mate of Francisco today.

The bark Ceylon arrived yesterday, 18 days from San Francisco. She brought a full carge of general merchandise. George Calhoun is now captain of the vessel in place of his father. The young captain was warmly congratulated by his many friends yesterday.

If the information given by ship ping men is true, the Lucania and Campania have not paid expenses since they went into service. Efforts to find out the coal consuming cap acity of the ships have not been suc cessful. It is said that each vessel burns about 550 tons of coal a day, and that this vast expense, added to department, has made it impossible thus far for the two big ships to pay for their maintenance.

The captain of the good ship Scandia, of Hamburg, has developed almost unconsciously into a great benefactor of suffering humanity— at least that portion that goes down to the sea in ships. During a recent voyage, a heavy storm came along, but there was no oil handy to still the troubled waters. But the skipper was a man with resources. He told off a few hands to make soap suds, and threw several hundred gallons of this stuff over the bow, with the result that the surface of the water became like the housewife's tub on washing day, and the ship was easily pavigated.

BROUGHT ASHORE IN IRONS. The Mate and Two Seamen of the Ship Empire in Trouble.

The ship Empire, Captain Davis, arrived off port on last Friday, seventy days from Newcastle, and came to anchor in the roadstead. It was reported on the front that the captain came here to dispose of his cargo of coal, and later it transpired that he had had trouble with his crew, as three men were brought ashore about midnight and locked up at the station house. They were landed in a launch belonging to the flagship Philadelphia, and each man was in irons. They were P. Cassidy, the first mate of the vessel, and James Campbell and Sydney Mellons, two seamen. The men were charged with in-subordination. The men had a hearing before United States Consul-General Mills on Saturday, and on Sunday they were liberated from custody and paid off. The captain has shipped a new mate, and the vessel will resume her voyage today.

Mate Cassidy's story of the trouble is about as follows: The vessel left Newcastle for San Francisco on March 30th. From the start the men complained about the small amount of food allowed them. The climax came on the 12th of April, when Cassidy was ordered to turn out the men who were off watch. They refused to turn out, and the captain ordered them, seven in all, to be put in irons, which was done. At 4:30 o'clock on the same day the starboard watch refused to work and they were placed in irons, also. This left the vessel very short handed. to Makaweli, Waimea and Kekaha. and the mate, the second mate and carpenter were ordered aloft to clew up sails. While all this was going on the ship was making water rapidly—three inches an hour, so the mate said. He advised the captain to release the men and put them at work on the pumps, but he refused to do so, and did not remove the irons from the men until 8 o'clock in the evening. During the day, so the mate says, the captain gave orders to have a port on Saturday in order to give long-boat launched, stating that he, his wife and child would leave the vessel to sink with all on board.

The mate was suspended from ordered to keep in his room. He denies that he is guilty of insubordination, but his superior officer says he is Captain Davis was seen by an ADVERTISER reporter about the affair. He says that his crew has been in a state of suppressed mutiny ever since the vessel left Newcastle. He denies that he said he would desert the ship, as Cassidy claims. In fact, he tells a story that differs totally from the one told by the second mate.

KAWAIAHAO PICNIC.

Children of the Hawaiian Sunday Schools are Filled.

The annual luan of the Hawaiian Sunday schools took place in the pleasant grounds of the church Saturday noon. These picnics have formerly been given by the Kawaiathe cost of maintaining the steward's | hao to the other schools, but this year Kaumakapili has followed the practice begun a year ago and joined with Kawaiahao in giving the feast, inviting the other schools and the Evangelical Association.

Saturday's feast was, in all respects, a success. Provision had been made for the feeding of a multitude, none of whom were sent away empty. Seven hundred and fifty persons sat down at the eight long tables on the first round, and a steady stream of substitutes came and went for an hour, so that probably 1500 persons came in for a share of the good things. There were a thousand packages of pig and beef, 186 of fresh fish, and a vast number containing pickled salmon, of which a barrel was used. The Railroad Company kindly loaned the tables from Remond Grove, and also contributed a bullock. Two large grunters supplied 500 lbs. of pork, while the usual temporary beverages popped for two hours in all directions.

IG fielding records and a reputation for hard hitting could not save the Kame hamehas from being defeated on Saturday afternoon. The game was one of the best of the season, and was the first that the Crescents have won. The victorious students have had their hitherto perfect percentage reduced to 800, and the Crescents, instead of having a blankwhere the percentage should be, now have the pride of surveying a big 200.

Woods pitched a splendid game. At one time, with three men on bases, he held the Kams down, not allowing them to make a run. The following is them to make a run. The following is the official score:
